BILL PROVIDES FOUR YEARS
FOR ALL COUNTY OFFICIALSNewly Elected Officials Would Have Term of Office Extended
Two YearsWould Eliminate County Ticket
In 1922.Most of The Officials Would Be AffectedNext County Election May Be
In 1924

(By Associated Press)

Columbus, O., January 19.—All county officials will be elected quadrennially instead of every two years and those elected last November would have the term for which they were elected extended to four years if a bill recommended for passage today by the Senate Committee on County Affairs becomes a law.

The bill would provide a minimum salary of $1200 a year for all county officials.

The bill is a substitute for a bill introduced by Senator Archer which provided only for a few county officials. The last legislature extended terms of county auditors and commissioners to four years and this one would place all others on a four year basis.

Terms of county treasurers and county recorders elected last November would be extended to the first Monday of September, 1925, terms of county surveyors, sheriffs, coroners and prosecutors would be extended to the first Monday in January, 1925.

If enacted into law this would eliminate a county ticket in 1922 and make the next election for county officials in the presidential year 1924 excepting where county treasurers and sheriffs are now serving their second term, there would have to be an election for them in two years.

The constitution limits sheriffs and treasurers to four consecutive years in office. They could not have their terms extended for a period of more than four years.

(By Associated Press)
Washington, January 19.—Counsel for Donal O'Callaghan, Lord Mayor of Cork, who arrived in this country recently, was directed today by Secretary Wilson to deliver the Lord Mayor promptly to the immigration inspector at Norfolk.

It was understood that in directing the prompt surrender of the Lord Mayor Secretary Wilson was influenced by a conference yesterday with Acting Secretary Davis of the State Department, whose order of deportation has been ignored by the Labor Department.

Officials of both departments said the immediate surrender of O'Callaghan to the immigration inspector in Norfolk would compose the differences between the departments.

State Department officials declared, however, that as a result of this controversy it was expected that a full understanding would be reached, in future as to authority of the State Department in immigration cases.

MEASURE WOULD ALLOW FARMERS
DIRECT MARKET

(By Associated Press)
Columbus, January 19.—A bill to permit farmers, stock raisers, dairy-men, fruit or truck growers to organize and fix prices for the direct marketing of their produce to the consumer, regardless of the Valentine anti-trust law, which now prohibits such action, was introduced in the State Senate today by Senator Charles Brand of Champaign County.

Passage of this measure would permit Ohio producers in any community to form companies for the selling of their products directly to consumers.

Milk producers it is said, under this law might form distributing companies in cities and secure an absolute monopoly on the milk business in any city.

Market and truck gardeners might establish their own city markets for the selling of their products.

As a precaution against excessive prices, it is proposed in the bill to give the State public Utilities Commission power to cite for hearing before it any such association which "restrains trade or lessens competition to such an extent that the price of any commodity is enhanced beyond the cost of production plus a reasonable profit."

(By Associated Press)
Rockaway, New York, January 19.—Two of the three balloonists who were lost four days in frozen Canadian wilds after their recent flight portrayed their suffering today before the naval court of inquiry investigating the trip.

One of them, Lieutenant Walter Hinton, picture the intense suffering of the eldest of the trio—Lieutenant Farrell—saying Farrell sank frequently from exhaustion.

Lieutenant Hinton did not make clear whether Lieutenant Farrell had begged his companion to cut his throat use his body for food and press on, as the former had stated in a letter to Mrs. Hinton—statements which led to the first fight between the two air-men at Mattice.

He briefly discussed this altercation and said he did not consider Farrell responsible for what he did or said, "due to his overwrought nerves and condition."

Lieutenant Farrell did not testify, as he was still ill, but the air station medical officer said he probably would be to appear tomorrow.

EASTERN
VISITED
BY FIRESSimultaneous Conflagrations In Worcester, Mass., Cause
Heavy LossOther Cities Called Upon To Furnish Aid to Stricken City

(By Associated Press)

Worcester, Mass., January 19.—This city was spotted by fires early today with a loss that ran upward of one million dollars.

Two business buildings on Main Street, heavily stocked with merchandise, were burned out a few blocks south of the city hall.

A score of tenement structures were overrun by sparks that caused roof blazes, and guests at the Bancroft and New Park Hotels, situated between the business and the tenement districts, prepared to follow the tenement dwellers into the zero temperature of the streets.

While the epidemic of flames engaged all the city's apparatus, another fiery spot developed several blocks northeast of the city hall on North Foster and Union Streets, where the woodworking plant of the N. K. Smith Corporation was burned with a loss of $100,000.

The origin of the principal fires was not definitely determined, but the police said they had only the faintest suspicion of incendiarism.

The fire area was inadequately covered by the city's fire fighting forces and Boston and other cities were called upon to send additional apparatus.

The flames skirted the buildings of the Worcester Evening Post, but were kept away by a curtain of water. The consequent cellar flood put the paper's pressroom out of commission and spoiled a large quantity of newsprint.

The first fire started in the Knowles building, two blocks south of the city hall. A high northwest wind picked up the embers and scattered them over the center of the city.

MR. GOBBLER IS VERY SAD OVER BANQUET PLANS

Thinks His Tribe Should Not Be Disturbed To Satisfy Fish and Game Banqueters' Appetites.

Fish and Game Protective Associations are great stuc for bass and quail, but when it comes to a hefty bird like myself—well that's a different story.

This was comment of Turkey Gobbler, interviewed at his country home near Washington C. H. Wednesday. He was confronted with the menu announced for the annual banquet of the Fayette County Fish and Game Protective Association, scheduled for February 2.

Admittedly, argument was on the side of Mr. Gobbler, for the association, while vitally interested in preserving and protecting quarry of stream and field, had set down in black and white their intention to slay for the annual celebration dozens of turkeys—age, creed, sex and previous condition of servitude not specified.

"How these so-called protectors of fish and game can consistently urge seasonable slaughter, and at the same time bargain for the wholesale murder of my brother and sister turkeys, entirely out of season, is more than I can understand" pleaded Mr. Gobbler nervously stroking his wattle. "By all the rights and usages of warfare upon my kind, late November and late December are the recognized periods of bloodshed. Once we have escaped axe on these menacing occasions, we should have reason to anticipate freedom of thought and action until another Thanksgiving or Christmas holiday period.

"If a seasonable morsel of game is necessary for the gastric revelry at Washington C. H., February 2," he continued, with haughty ruffling of his front feathers. "I would respectfully refer this committee on provender to the groundhog, whose debut is celebrated annually on that date. I feel that in this suggestion I am expressing also the personal sentiments of my associate—Cranberry, whom I understand has been designated as another victim of this gratification of human palates."

At this juncture Mr. Gobbler suddenly closed the interview. Raising a warning index toe to his once loquacious bill, he indicated that he did not want Mrs. Turkey Hen, then approaching across the barnyard, to be saddened by the prospect of losing a host of her relatives and dearest friends—and perhaps her own head.

But the wishes of the turkey tribe are to be totally disregarded. The feast planned by the Fayette Association will be held in Washingtons Memorial Hall, February 2, as originally planned. It is expected that fully 1,000 of the 1233 active members will attend. The banquet will be prepared and served by members. It has been estimated that in addition to 50 turkeys, the provisions will include 10 bushel of potatoes, a barrel of cranberries, 100 pounds of sugar, 30 pounds of coffee, 20 dozen bunches of celery, 2000 hot rolls and other necessary viands.

Musically, the event will be a close rival of the much-quoted "three-ring circus." Heber's orchestra, Columbus jazz experts, will harmonize with saxophone, trombone, cornet, piano, drums, xylophone and voices. Then there will be Harvey Brownfield, Cincinnati's deft exponent of the accordion. While one group of 500 banqueters is being fed on the third floor, those booked for the second table will be entertained on the ground floor.

And when it comes to oratory, the old reservoir will be tapped at frequent intervals. State and county officials, as well as out of town sport writers, are being invited, meaning a wealth of monologue from the former and a profusion of excuses from the latter.

HERBS USED IN MEDICINES

A Manchester, England, paper urges the renewed cultivation of old fashioned medicinal herbs in English gardens. In the United States they have also gone out of fashion as a feature of the small garden, although they are imported in large quantities from Turkey, India and China, where they are grown purely for commercial purposes as their medicinal value is recognized by many leading physicians. Tons of medicinal herbs are used annually in the preparation of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a most successful medicine for woman's ills. It contains no narcotics or harmful drugs, and women afflicted with such ailments should try it.

Maximum of Power From a Cold Motor

To develop the maximum horse power the builders intended the motor should develop you must select the fuel which the motor can easily transform into power.

That means you must use a fuel of quick firing qualities; of clean burning qualities; of least carbon-depositing elements. This simply means the use of because every drop is crowded with power easy to bring out. The refining methods insure less carbon deposits and the low boiling point insures quick firing and clean burning.

Germany's Loss in Africa

To the average person, Africa, although no longer a vast forbidding unexplored territory, is still a far-off remote continent and what people generally do not realize is that the lower part of the erstwhile dark continent is one of the most prosperous regions in the world.

Nations at war gave the Boers an opportunity. Home currency in South Africa is at a premium instead of a discount; the high cost of living is a stranger and there is little suggestion of the rack and ruin disturbing the universe. War-ravaged nations and their neighbors may be feeling their uncertain way toward economic reconstruction, but the Union of South Africa affords a striking contrast. It is on the way to tremendous expansion.

South Africa presents many economic features of distinct and unique interest.

In 1876 there were only 400 miles of railroad in all Africa. Now there are more than 30,000 miles, of which 11,478 are in Union of South Africa, operated by the government at a profit, and profit returned to the roads, so that schedules are reduced and tariffs are very low. No electrifying is a part of the system.

The unbroken "iron spine," which Rhodes beheld in his vision of the future as linking North and South Africa, will probably not be built for some years. Besides the navigable rivers in Belgian Congo, Egypt and Sudan lend themselves to the rail-and-water route, which enables travel to go the whole way from the Cape of Cairo.

Now that German prestige is ended in Africa an all rail route, costing billions, is not an impossibility.

Union of South Africa has immense quantities of low priced coal. It produced over ten million tons of coal in 1919. Coal costs under seven shillings a ton at pit head and in England more than 30 shillings at pit head. No wonder the big ships coal at the cape.

Five thousand acres of corn are under cultivation—15,000,000 pounds of tobacco—wheat, fruit, sugar and other products expanding rapidly. South Union boasts 7,000,000 head of cattle—increase of 100 per cent in ten years; 90 percent of world supply of precious stones. Kimberly is built over a diamond mine and it was here that Cecil Rhodes amassed his huge fortune. Last year the Union produced 35,800,000 pounds sterling in gold and 7,200,000 in diamonds. It is holding on to all gold, permitting none to leave the country in form of money.

But great as is the Union's mining treasure, its rich land is the real measure of its wealth. South Union is a huge cattle country. The Boers have always excelled in the care of live stock.

One of the really picturesque industries of the Union is the breeding of ostriches. Port Elizabeth, in the Cape Colony, is the center of the ostrich feather trade and there in three days were disposed of $85,000 worth of ostrich feathers.

As a well known writer says, "The one-time dark continent remains dark only for Germany." Germany knew of Africa's vast undeveloped wealth. The methods that she used were typical. She really had no right to invade this country, but she was developing into a strong military power and rather than have trouble the other nations acquiesced.

Germany's flag in South Africa is now gone into the discard. The immense territory she acquired is gone. The peace conference gave to South Africa the mandate for the vast and rich territory formerly controlled by German Southwest Africa. She will keep it.

POETRY FOR TODAY

GRAY NIGHTS

Oh, dreary nights, all ashen gray,
With never star or moon-lit ray
A-beaming down
O'er where the purple mountains tall
Stand darkly draped in somber pall
O'er meadows brown.

Oh, bleak winds, wierdly whispering
Ye sadly pass, deep murmuring
As troubled wights—
As grieving for the days departed
Sobbing, bereft, broken-hearted,
Throughout gray nights.

Far upward toward the sullen skies,
In vain we peer, with questioning eyes,
For starry beam;
No light illumines the ashen gray,
No fainting hue of promised day,
No cheering gleam.

What though the stars and moon may hide
And night may hold? If Love abide
And Faith be fair,
Through gloomy mist, the stars will shine,
The golden moon her gold refine
And Light be everywhere.

PROGRESSIVES ARE ANGERED BY CABINET SLATE OF MR. HARDING

Only Standpatters and Anti-League Men Are Recognized in Appointments

Many Farmers of Western States Oppose Hoover—Gen. Wood Acceptable.

BY MARK SULLIVAN
(Copyright 1921)

Some of the more recent visitors to Marion have given expression to an almost truculent feeling that in the tentative cabinet stakes Senator Harding does not show as much consideration for the Progressive faction as he did in the campaign. None of the six or seven men now accepted as final were identified with the Progressive party. The weakness of the Progressives is that they are not united. If the Progressives could agree on a list of candidates for the cabinet, they could undoubtedly get one, two or three posts.

But the line-up which the Progressives held five to eight years ago on domestic progressive issues has been cut across at right angles and otherwise thrown into chaos by later issues dealing with foreign relations. The two senators who were officially connected with the Progressive party, Johnson of California, and McCormick of Illinois, are just now preoccupied not with the old Progressive issues but with implacable opposition to the League of Nations or any variation of it.

On the other hand, a large number of the rank and file that were the backbone of the Progressive party, the college communities, and the class that politicians call the "church people," earnestly favor the League. The great bulk of these people would regard Hoover in the Cabinet as representative of their views. Harding would like to put Hoover in his cabinet; but Johnson, the senator from Hoover's state, would regard that appointment as a personal affront.

Farmers Don't Want Hoover And even if Harding were willing to disregard the prejudices of the powerful senator from Hoover's own state, there are large numbers of farmers from those western states which were the backbone of the Progressive party who bitterly oppose Hoover because of what they take as unfair treatment of their interests by Hoover's Food Administration. For example, Henry C. Wallace, the Des Moines farm paper editor, who is practically certain to be in the cabinet himself, has been sharply critical of Hoover in his paper.

Another appointment which would be acceptable to large numbers of Progressives is Gen. Wood. But again Senator Johnson, who ran for vice president on the Progressive ticket with Roosevelt for president, resents Gen. Wood's attempt last spring to capture the presidential nomination on the theory that he was the true heir to Roosevelt. A powerful group of progressive leaders have wanted Root for secretary of state, but the two senators, Johnson and McCormick, would regard that appointment as anathema. These two senators, based on their present position on foreign relations, would like Knox for secretary of state, although in the old Progressive line-up on domestic economic issues Knox was of the inner circle of standpatters.

In these and other ways the old Progressive leadership is so torn to pieces that it isn't easy for Harding to satisfy them, however he would like to. Nevertheless, a prevailing "Old Guard" cabinet is going to cause a good deal of discontent; and it is as certain as any future thing can be that there will arise in the west the coming year a sentiment of discontent so strong that it will menace the party in power as much as the old Progressive party did.

Senator Harding's way of going about his cabinet making has, among its advantages, the disadvantages of causing just this kind of factional protest to arise. Not only are the old Progressive active but many other groups as well; strong representations have been made that the south should be given an appointment, that the Pacific coast should be given one, and that the Democrats should be given one. Some of the advocacy behind certain names rests on the theory that the cabinet should include a Jew.

Catholic Urged for Cabinet Harding has been strongly urged to appoint some one who is a Catholic the urging coming from party leaders who are not themselves Catholics.

Their argument are based on party policy. After the election it turned out that not only did the Irish Catholics vote for Harding, but also, in New York City and elsewhere, quite generally registered as Republicans, which is a more significant thing than merely voting for Harding. The Republican strategists say that this means the Irish Catholics, after half a century at anchor in the Democratic party, have determined to try the Republicans a while, and they urge that Harding should give them sign of welcome by putting one of them in the cabinet. If Harding should decide to follow this advice, the field in which it would be most easy to find a man who is first of all a leader in his line, an also, an Irish Catholic, would be in the selection of a secretary of labor.

Harding by now has got all the benefits to be had from this sort of widespread discussion of trial balloons for the cabinet, and has experienced some unexpected embarrassments that attend it. The trouble with it is that the discussion it provokes lays emphasis not on ability, but on availability. Potential names are discussed in terms of expediency.

From now on Harding may be expected to tend toward the practices of his predecessors in cabinet making. He has said that he would follow the advice of those who claim he should announce the slate and treasury appointments early; but the balance of the armaments will probably be reserved until March 4. There may be one or two surprises in the final list. In connection with Wilson's cabinet making these two incidents happened: On March 4 two leading citizens of St. Louis David R. Francis and Franklin Houston, rode together to Washington and gossiped about politics on the way. The next day, March 5, Mr. Francis read the name of Mr. Houston in the newly announced cabinet. That was the first that Mr. Francis or any other outsider knew about it. And two weeks before Franklin Lane actually sat in Wilson's cabinet the two men had never met.

RANDOM NOTES

SOCIAL : PERSONAL MENTION : CLUBS

The Past Matrons and Past Patrons of Royal Chapter, No. 29, banqueted brilliantly at the Masonic Temple Monday night, twenty-five being seated in the banquet hall for a sumptuous turkey banquet of four courses.

The hall presented a radiant scene, with tables surrounding a hollow square, which was a garden of bloom a variety of potted plants in rich variety of colors. On the tables there was no further decoration than sparkling silver and cut glass, the entire effect unusual and striking.

Following the dinner hour, with its distinctive fraternal pleasure enhancing the delight of a perfect menu, there was business, conducted by the retiring President, Mrs. Fannie J. Hudson, and initiation.

The candidates covered the Matrons and Patrons of the past three years when war conditions prevented their initiation. They were: Mrs. Bertha Cadwallader, Mrs. Mae Rodgers, Mr. Walter Herron, Columbus, Mrs. Loa Gray, Mr. George Chaney, Mrs. Amelia Waddell.

Announcement was made of the new officers: Mrs. Martha Mark, President, Mr. Walter Herron, Vice President, Miss Vera Veal, Secretary and Treasurer.

After the initiation there were informal speeches, the candidates freely called upon.

The banquet committee, Mrs. Martha Mark, Chairman, Mrs. Mae Rodgers, Mrs. Loa Gray, Mr. Will N. Hay and Mr. Walter Herron, deserved all the praise it evoked for the complete success of the banquet.

A very handsome stag dinner, of much elaborateness in menu and out of the ordinary features, was entertained by Mrs. Earl McCoy Tuesday evening in honor of Mr. McCoy's birthday.

The table was a vision of beauty, a rose and white color scheme artistically carried out. Four silver candlesticks, with waxy tapers and rose shades sentinelled an exquisite white wicker basket, filled with carnations, narcissi and stevia, a big rose bow on the handle, in the center of the table. The place cards were extremely clever bearing original verses and "cut outs" which were sufficiently typical to enable each guest to find his designated place.

With the serving of the last course a large birthday cake, blazing with pink candles, was brought in and sampled with much rejoicing that the popular host had fallen heir to a birthday.

A four course turkey dinner, with every desired accessory, was also shown full appreciation and the dinner hour was one of congeniality and merriment such as is only possible in a gathering of intimates.

Seated with the host and enjoying the delightfully cordial hospitality of the home were eight of Mr. McCoy's special friends, Dr. P. M. Cook, Messrs. Glenn B. Rodgers, Carl S. Mallow, W. H. Brown, R. R. Kibler, Frank E. Michael, W. H. Lipsett, Albert Briggs.

The Cecilians presented a short program at their regular Tuesday afternoon meeting, Mrs. Winnie W. Shoop, Vice President, presiding.

Mrs. Clara G. White had an excellent paper, "Resume of Poland's History," taking up the geographical and political sides of Poland's history.

Miss Light contributed a paper on "Songs of Chopin." There were two charming musical numbers—a piano interpretation of Rachmanoff's "Period," by Mrs. Lulu Sheets and a vocal solo by Mrs. Amy Hudson, a beautiful song adaptation of Chopin's Prelude.

The Cecilians voted to give $10 to the War Orphans Relief.

The Browning Club held its annual election at Tuesday night's meeting, Mrs. Julia H. Dahl, President, in charge.

The newly elected officers are: President, Mrs. Troy Junk, First Vice President, Mrs. Ada Jones; Second Vice, Mrs. Mary Duff; Secretary, Miss Mary Pyley; Treasurer, Mrs. Minnie Bush; Executive Committee, Messdames Julia H. Dahl, Mae Rogers, Laura Gregg.

There was informal discussion of subjects for next year's program.

The Art Department presented a most interesting program, Miss Edith Gardner, chairman.

Miss Mary Pyley presented a paper showing scholarly research and well culled information on "Flemish Renaissance of the 16th Century." She handled the renaissance of painting rather than architecture.

Belgian painting is noted for its rich coloring, rather than its drawing. The influence of Germany and Holland leaves its imprint upon Flemish art.

Mrs. Mary Spray treated of "The Town Halls of Belgium" in an exceedingly well prepared paper, taking up the architecture of these famed halls.

In them the Gothic was developed, with more or less ornateness, the style distinctly of Belgium and the North.

The writer described the masterly architecture of the town halls of Lorraine, Brussels and Antwerp, a type purely characteristic. These town halls were different from any others and represented the community life.

Mrs. Spray showed a number of interesting views sent to her by a friend visiting Belgium last year, and showing these buildings as they were and as they are—the present ruins indeed distressing.

Miss Gertrude Channel also brought a number of views. "Tapestry and Lace Industries of Belgium" was the subject of a very interesting paper by Miss Minnie Light. Through her paper club women caught a picturesque glimpse of the streets of Belgium on sunny afternoons, when Belgium women sat in the open before their door steps and made their wonderful bobbin laces—the valenciennois points and other rich weaves. They use a very expensive fine linen thread. Brussels is full of lace stores and lace is distinctively an industry of Belgium.

Belgium tapestries preceded the Gobelin tapestries. They were woven with few colors, these colors wonderfully mingled in the weaving. This early industry died out after it became imbued with the Italian warmth of colors, following their introduction into Belgium.

The Italian weavers were not equal to the Belgians, but their colorings were so much richer that, when tapestries were wanted for the Sistine chapel, Raphael sent his drawings in color from Italy as patterns for the Belgians to make the tapestries. It was impossible for the Belgians to confine themselves to their few crude colors, but the variety demanded by the Italians were too complex for their permanent using and making of these Sistine tapestries was the beginning of the end. A few very valuable Belgian tapestries are in this country.

The Young Women's Christian Association plans to observe in various ways National Thrift Week, January 17 to 24, also Sunday, January 24 which has been set aside as Child Labor Day, when special services and meetings will mark the interest of the Association in the subject of child labor.

Coming as it does at the close of National Thrift Week, Child Labor Day has been designated to emphasize the waste of child life in the nation as regards health, education, efficiency and happiness. Its object will be an appeal for the conservation of child life in America today.

SPECIAL SERVICES FORMALLY OPENED AT ST. ANDREWS

The Preaching Mission at St. Andrews began Tuesday night, the church being well filled. The service was of an informal nature, consisting of singing of familiar hymns, short prayers, a question box and sermon.

Archdeacon Dodson's subject was taken from Acts 24-25, and he drew a vivid picture of the scene where Paul appeared before Felix and Drusilla in chains, and preached to them of righteousness, temperance and the judgment. The speaker's fearless attack on the problems faced today was heard with marked attention by his audience. He said in part:

"We hear too little of the judgment today; people have heard so much of the love of God that they have become spiritually love-sick. We need more preachers after the manner of St. Paul, who showed that those who live unrighteously and lack control of their passions and appetites will have to answer for it in the day of judgment. Felix was convicted of sin and trembled, but could not stand the test, and instead of sending away his so called wife, the beautiful Drusilla, he sent away Paul and resisted the holy spirit of God. So it is with the men and women today. There is something in their lives contrary to the law of God, and they have allowed their bodies to become masters instead of their souls, and are bound with the chain of their sins."

"Most of the divorces in our land today result in licensed polygamy. Like Felix men see the face of a pretty woman whom they desire, put away their lawful wives, and live unrighteously in the sight of God."

"The preacher believes in a heaven and a hell, though not a maternal fire. The finest picture of both places is in the last chapter of Revelations and neither heaven nor hell is mentioned. Those who enter through the gates into the city where God is, are in heaven; while on the outside are the idolaters, murderers, adulterers, and whosoever loveth and maketh a lie. This place is hell. It is where God is not."

The subject of the sermon Wednesday night is "Christian Healing as practiced by the Church—Is it Christian Science?"

There will be a celebration of the Holy Communion at 7:30 Thursday morning.

TRAIN RIDERS IN BAGGAGE CAR CREATE A STIR

As B. & O. west-bound passenger train No. 31 was pulling out of this city Wednesday morning two young men or boys were seen climbing aboard and entering an empty baggage car attached to the train.

Word was immediately wired to Sabina where the operator, Scott, and Marshal Dan Williams were ready to receive the two men, both being armed and ready to shoot.

It was believed that the pair had entered the car for the purpose of robbery, and the B. & O. men were taking no chances.

When the car reached Sabina Marshal Williams and Operator Scott entered the car and the two fellows made a break for freedom, offering no resistance other than flight.

Both were speedily overhauled and said they had been stealing a ride and had no intention of committing a hold-up or robbery. Neither youth had a gun.

The two were taken into custody and removed to the county jail at Wilmington where charges were to be filed.

The men gave their names as Jeff Lewis, Cincinnati, and Raymond Shaffer, Evert, Pa.

EIGHTY PER CENT. OF FAYETTE WOOL REMAINS UNSOLD

Little Stir in Wool Market Centers, Is The Report.

There is little sign of life in the wool market, it was stated Wednesday by local wool dealers.

With approximately eighty percent of Fayette county's wool yet in storage because the producers have not been able to get market quotations and with practically no market in sight, a condition exists here which has never been equalled in recent years.

On good authority it is stated that in the majority of instances where farmers have sold their wool it has been at a great sacrifice and only where the grower was "hard pressed" for cash.

No one is able to say when the market will "brighten" or when the big buyers will feel safe in receiving their consignments. Local dealers and buyers believe that the opening of the spring market will again place wool on a substantial basis.

Ohio is not the only state which has suffered by the depression in the wool markets. Reports from western and eastern states and from the south tell the same story.

The "Market Reporter" says of Florida: "Practically all of the 1920 wool clip remains in the hands of the producers. None of the wools have been graded. The Growers express a desire to meet the buyers."

From Kansas: "A large percentage of the 1920 wool clip in Kansas has been shipped to Chicago on consignment. No sales reported."

Michigan is in a similar predicament as the following bears out: "Much of the wool produced in the state has been concentrated by the Michigan State Farm Bureau at Lansing. The wools are graded. No sales reported."

THINGS TO SEE IN THE WINTERTIME

TRACKS AND THE STORIES THEY TELL

By Ernest Thompson Seton.
(Copyright, 1920, by The Wheeler Syndicate, Inc.)

Tracks and the stories they tell

Sometimes, in town, just after rain when the gutters are wet and the pavement dry, look for the tracks of some dog that walked with wet feet on the pavement. You will find that they are like (a) in the drawing. A dog has five toes on his front feet but only four touch the pavement as he walks. The claws also touch, and make each a little mark.

Now look for the track of a cat; it is somewhat like that of a dog, but it is smaller, softer, and the claws do not show (b). They are too good to be wasted on a pavement; she keeps them pulled in so they are sharp when she has use for them.

Make a drawing of each of these and make it life size.

When there is dust on the road, or snow, look for sparrow tracks; they are like (c).

Note how close together the front three toes are. The inner two are really fast together, so they cannot be separated, and the hind toe is very large. Last of all, note that the tracks go two and two, because the sparrow goes "hop, hop, hop." These things mean that the sparrow is really a tree bird; and you will see that though often on ground, he gets up in a tree when he wishes to feel safe.

Look for some chicken tracks in the dust; they are like (d) in the drawing, because the chicken does not go "hop, hop, hop" like the sparrow but "walk, walk, walk." The chicken is a ground-bird. Most of the song-birds hop like the sparrow, and most of the game-birds walk like a chicken. But the robin (e) goes sometimes hopping and sometime running, because part of his life is in the trees, and part on the ground.

TRIBUTE

It is with deep regret that the trowling Club chronicles the death of Miss Sallie Pursell.

She was one of the most loyal of the club members, first on the active and later on the associate list. When prevented by ill health from participating in the program, she was still a valued regular attendant, and when finally she was unable to meet with us, a face and a personality passed from our midst that can never be forgotten.

It is fitting therefore, that we place his tribute of respect upon our records, print the same in our daily paper, and forward a copy to her relatives.

NATIONAL THRIFT WEEK

Own Your Own Home

with

Easy Monthly Payments

DID YOU EVER LOOK AT IT THIS WAY? THAT THE MONEY YOU SPEND SCARCE SURVIVES THE SPENDING—A FEW HOURS IF IT IS AMUSEMENT; A FEW WEEKS IF IT IS RENT; A FEW MONTHS IF IT IS CLOTHES—AND THEN IT IS GONE FOREVER. BUT THE MONEY YOU APPLY EACH MONTH IN PAYING FOR A HOME IS YOURS AS LONG AS YOU LIVE.

Plan your work and work your plan

NO MATTER what your earning power you can find a plan to Own Your Own Home. The trouble with most of us is that we can plan our work in day dreams, but we lack the courage and persistency to put that plan into operation. An unworked plan is a joy to shiftlessness. First plan to own your own home by saving at regular intervals. Second, work your plan by patience, courage and persistency.

Your tomorrows and your todays

WHAT is your standing today in your community compared to a year ago? Did you plan then to own your own home and thus become steadily a more substantial and respected citizen who is looked upon by influential men as a "comer?" Or are you one of the countless thousands who fritter away your substance in the maelstrom of everyday living?

ONE YEAR hence, two years hence, ten years hence, where will you be? Will you be one of those who hugs to himself the story of his failure and says: "I never had much luck"—who live and toil and become feckless wastage of the cunning schemes of those around you?

OR WILL your judgment be looked up to because you have gained something in the world—will you Own Your Own Home?

Increase your savings by saving your increases

THE WAY is not easy, neither is it too hard, to Own Your Own Home. Each year your saving power should increase. What do you do with the increase? Do you set it aside toward buying a home for yourself? What do you do with the increases in your salary? Do you set them aside against the day when your earning power will start to decrease? At that time will you Own Your Own Home? You can if you start now.

THE PLAN

1. Start to save as much as you can conveniently each week. This saving must be regular.
2. Deposit this amount in a Savings Bank and get interest on it at 4 percent. If you save $5 per week you will have over $500 at the end of two years. If you save $10 per week you will have over $1,000 at the end of two years.
3. Pick out the house you want to buy and with the above amount as initial payment you will be able to make the purchase.
4. Go to your Savings Bank and talk to them about it. You will find plenty of institutions willing to make you a loan on property.
5. Then each month, instead of paying rent, you pay an instalment on your home.
6. If you want to build your home go to a Building and Loan institution with your problem. They can help you.

And, last to read but first to DO, commence to save NOW

Thursday is 'OWN YOUR OWN HOME' Day

IS GRANDEST MEDICINE IN THE WORLD SHE SAYS

Ohio Woman Declares Tanlac Entirely Relieved Her Troubles of Six Years' Standing and She Gained 18 Pounds.

"Tanalac is certainly the grandest medicine in the world, for it has relieved me of my troubles and added eighteen pounds to my weight," said Mrs. R. Shutt, of 814 Talmach St., Toledo, Ohio.

"For six years my stomach was in a terrible condition. Gas would form and bloated me up until I nearly smothered, and there was a burning sensation and sharp pains in the pit of my stomach.

"I had to take medicine nearly every day for constipation and had frequent spells of dizziness. The least little thing would make me nervous, and at night I suffered so from a painful swelling and a numbness in my limbs that I could hardly get any sleep. Many a time I had to get up in the night and give my muscles a good rubbing before I could rest at all.

"After spending a lot of money for medicines and treatment that brought me no relief I finally decided to give Tanlac a trial, and the results have been surprising. I can get just what ever I please now and never suffer the least bit from gas or any other form of indigestion.

"I am no longer nervous and don't suffer from that swelling in my limbs. I sleep well and I get up every morning feeling good. Everybody tells me I look like a different person, and I know I feel like one."

FORD TO SPEND TEN MILLIONS ON THE D. T. & I.

A dispatch from Detroit states that Henry Ford has announced his intention of spending some $10,000,000 in improvements on the Detroit, Toledo & Ironton railroad which he acquired last summer.

Ford also announces that new freight cars for the road will be built by the Ford plant at Dearborn and that present locomotives are being scrapped and heavier ones purchased. During the last 4 months Ford has rebuilt some 60 miles of the upper end of the system, laying new and heavier steel and new ties. Recently a section of new road was completed between Greenfield and Good Hope.

One of the improvements contemplated is the elimination of the heavy grade and "horse shoe bend" this side of Waverly.

BALLOTING HEAVY IN CLUB ELECTION

Balloting on election of Directors of the Fayette County Automobile Club promised to be heavy Wednesday. It was expected that the majority of the 900 members of the club would cast their vote.

Ballots sent out by the Club began to return in marked form Tuesday. They will be counted at the Annual Club meeting at the court house Wednesday evening.

It was thought that many members would bring their marked ballots with them when they attended the meeting at the court house.

NOTHING WRONG EXCEPT "RUN DOWN"

Heart All Right — Lungs All Right But Blood Weak

NO ENERGY OR ENTHUSIASM

That's When You Need Pepto Mangan — The Red Blood Builder

When you feel weak and almost sick see a doctor and find out what is wrong.

It may be a serious illness. But in many cases the doctor finds nothing really wrong except a general run-down condition due to the need of stronger, richer blood.

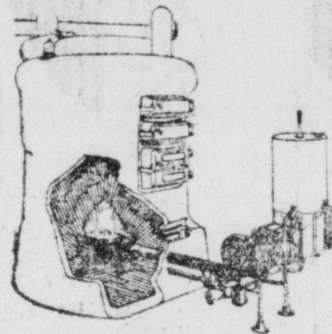

For over thirty years physicians have recommended Gude's Pepto-Mangan to restore weakened blood to its normal healthy state.

Pepto-Mangan imparts to the blood the elements it needs to build up vigorous men and women. Children whose blood is impoverished become listless and pale and fail to romp. Pepto-Mangan creates a supply of nourishing red blood that makes the cheeks glow the eyes sparkle and brings back the energy for play or studies.

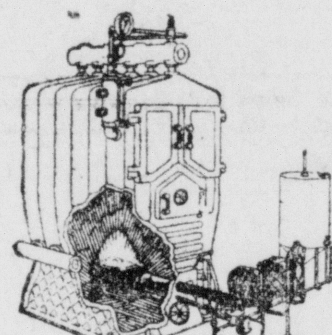

Pepto-Mangan is obtainable in liquid or tablet form, whichever proves most convenient. Both forms possess identical medicinal qualities.

There is but one genuine Pepto-Mangan and that is "Gude's." Ask your druggist for "Gude's" and look for the name "Gude's" on the package. If it is not there, it is not Pepto-Mangan. —Advertisement.

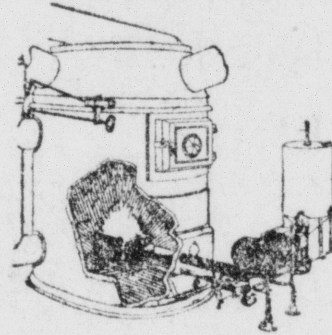

Heat your home with oil

Nokol in hot water boiler

Nokol at work in steam heating plant

Installed in ordinary hot air furnace

You can install a Nokol automatic oil burner in your present furnace whether it is hot air, steam or hot water. Nokol burns oil instead of coal. It burns with an intense, white, hot flame which leaves no ashes, soot, smoke or odor whatever.

The absence of coal and its dust frees your leisure hours of dirty basement jobs, allows your furnace to work better and assures you a clean, healthy home.

Furnace tends itself

All you need to do is set the living room thermostat at the temperature you want and Nokol will automatically maintain it.

The moment the temperature falls below the normal point Nokol automatically ignites and brings it up again; if it goes above, Nokol ceases action.

Thus Nokol burns oil only when heat is needed

Many enthusiastic users

Nokol has been installed in many homes for a period of over two years. The satisfaction of these owners is the best evidence of Nokol's worth.

The National board of Underwriters carry Nokol on the approved list.

Price $375.00 F. O. B. Chicago, without oil tank.

"TOO OLD" NOT ALWAYS TRUE
Many middle-aged men and women look old before their time, and when there are two workers for one job, the younger looking is favored. When the kidneys are overworked, tired or diseased, one slows up and looks and acts older than he really is. Foley Kidney Pills help disordered kidneys. Blackmer & Tanquary.—Advt.
